

SALMAGUNDI

Mr. and Mrs. Mallet returned from their Alaskan trip Saturday forenoon. They report a splendid trip.

Mrs. George Anderson, George, her son, and Mrs. Martin's little boy left for Palo Alto, California, yesterday. George will enter Stanford University and Mrs. Martin's boy will be placed in school.

While driving some horses from the 16-mile station to Elko Saturday, the horse N. A. Evans, keeper of the station, was riding stepped into a badger hole and threw him, breaking his collar bone. He was brought to town by the stage and taken to the county hospital.

Every voter qualified to vote at the primary election should cast his ballot tomorrow for the candidate of his choice. No vote should be cast for a candidate simply because he is a "good fellow." Merit should be the test.

Snowbirds are coming earlier than known in any previous history of the county, according to the Indians, who also note the great abundance of pine nuts. These indications are infallible signs for the red man to prepare for a cold spell and they are pitching their wickiups in sunny and protective spots.—Bonanza.

Mrs. George Stoker of Lovelock gave this office a pleasant call this forenoon. Mrs. Stoker was formerly Miss Annie Toyne of Mound Valley. She has been visiting her parents and friends in Mound Valley. She left for home on No. 19 this afternoon. We were glad to meet her as it aroused memories of the time she was one of our pupils in the Elko public school.

There are some beautiful hair neck chains for ladies at the sheriff's office. They were sent there by a young man serving a term in the Montana penitentiary. He wrote the sheriff's office that he was trying to buy a set of books on civil engineering so that he could fit himself for a useful and honorable life after his term expires. The chains sell for $1 each and are worth the money.

Democrats should strive to pick a ticket tomorrow that will win in November. This is especially true as to governor and lieutenant governor. Consider well the qualifications of the candidates for these offices and their past records and vote for the men that will give the state the best service. We believe that Lem Allen for Governor and Dr. J. A. Ascher for lieutenant governor fill the bill as to qualifications and clean records. They will make a winning team in November.

One of most beautiful young women of Turon, Kansas says that she steams and sweats her face regularly once a week over her mother's wash tub, and that wringing the clothes makes her arms plump, and hanging out the clothes has enlarged her bust measurements several inches, while the exercise of stooping and lifting the clothes makes her waist smaller. The hurrying from stove to table helping mother get the meals gives her poise and dignity so much admired in womanhood.—Exchange.

RECKLESS RIDING CAUSES ACCIDENT

Saturday night about 10 o'clock as Mrs. May Peterson and Miss Francis Moore were racing horses up and down the main streets, the horse ridden by Mrs. Peterson fell in crossing the Southern Pacific track near the passenger depot and threw her violently to the ground. She was picked up unconscious and taken to her home. Luckily no bones were broken, but she was badly bruised about the head and face.

An eye witness of the accident told us that Mrs. Peterson made a short turn to cross the track and one of the horses feet struck one of the rails of the crossing and threw him. The horses were going at a lively pace as they approached the crossing and the accident was wholly due to reckless riding. It would be a good idea for the officers to pinch all who ride or drive recklessly through the streets. If they do not care for their own lives they should be made to care for the lives of others, be they women or men. A fine or a term in jail would have a wonderful effect on reckless riders and drivers.

PIONEER ENGINEER PASSES AWAY

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at his home in Dayton, Thomas Proctor Mack passed away after a long and peaceful life, respected and esteemed by all who knew him and loved by a circle of friends who had been with him for years. The deceased was one of the pioneers of the state coming across the plains at the age of 19, being the youngest of the party in which he traveled. He passed through Dayton in the fall of 1861 for Sacramento where he made his first home in the west. He was born in De Kalb County, Illinois on the 12th day of March 1842, being the son of Martin M. and Elizabeth Mack. He was educated in the schools of Illinois and Wisconsin and early graduated as a civil engineer.

In the spring of 1862 Mr. Mack again crossed the mountains and landed in Nevada engaging in metallurgy, mining and civil engineering in Storey and Lyon counties, making those counties his home until the day of his death. In 1870 he was married to Miss Annie M. Page of which union there were three sons and a daughter, all being at the death bed except the son Thomas, who is in Alaska. The deceased was a member of the assembly of the 6th legislature of the state and was recorder of Lyon county for eight years. He was a member in good standing of the Masonic lodge.—Carson News.

DR. RICHARDSON DIES OF ANTHRAX

Dr. T. F. Richardson of Fallon, for several years state veterinarian, and recently appointed by Governor Oddie to investigate a malady among cattle which was causing much concern among owners of herds in Churchill county, died at Fallon, Friday night of anthrax, with which his left hand had become infected while taking a specimen from a cow that had died of the disease.

Dr. Richardson's hand became infected about a week ago and he was unable to stay the inroads of the poison. A sample from the doctor's infected hand was sent to Prof. W. B. Mack of the University of Nevada, who pronounced the specimen positive for anthrax.

Dr. Richardson died at 8 o'clock Friday night, and was buried at Fallon yesterday afternoon. He leaves a widow and one son.

It was at first believed that the trouble among the cattle was caused by a poisonous plant, water hemlock, or what is commonly called poison parsnip, and specimens were sent by Dr. Richardson to the University of Nevada, where they were analyzed by Prof. C. A. Jacobson, chief chemist. Prof. Jacobson reported that the plant under suspicion belongs to the Ciguera or water hemlock family, but is not poisonous, and is a species not heretofore known or described in all of his researches. It does not contain eicotoxin, the poisonous principle of water hemlock, and also differs from water hemlock in that its leaves are much narrower and the characteristic rootstalk or rhizome of the water hemlock is entirely absent.

It is believed that Dr. Richardson thought the trouble was due to a poisonous plant and did not suspect the presence of anthrax, and that he delayed taking heroic measures on that account when first infected.—Reno Journal

MAY ABANDON NEVADA EXHIBIT

The Panama Pacific fair commission is beginning to see the light. At a meeting Friday the commission unanimously adopted a resolution asking the boards of county commissioners to advise the commission of the sentiment in the counties on the proposition of abandoning Nevada's part in the exposition. We do not know what advice the commissioners of this county will give, but we hope it will be in favor of the abandonment proposition.

The commission claims that only $18,000 of the amount appropriated by the legislature is now available for exposition purposes. The debts contracted by the commission amount to $6,000, none of which has been paid. Part of the $6,000 is due to members of the legislature that passed the $140,000 appropriation for exposition purposes and should not be paid. If paid at all, it should be by the men who made the appointments.

Following are the resolutions adopted by the commissioners:

Whereas, the present European war the duration and result of which cannot be foretold, is bringing about a temporary curtailment of production in our mining industry, and is more or less affecting other industries of the state, and

Whereas, such war or its results could not have been anticipated by the legislature at the time of the passing of the act providing for the state's representation at the Panama-Pacific and Panama California expositions, and

Whereas, the reduced production in the mines of Nevada, or storage of product thereof, will cause a loss in bullion tax revenue, and

Whereas, it appears from the facts and figures ascertainable from the state controller's office and the Nevada tax commission that the amount of revenue actually collected under the assessed valuation of 1913 was only slightly above the amount required for the running expenses of the state and of the amount to be expended on the California expositions but $18,000 is at present actually available; the balance therefore, is still to be collected and can be obtained only through a large increase in the assessed valuation of the state for 1914. In addition to the increased valuation the exposition appropriation will necessitate a further increased valuation will be required to make up the possible loss of revenue from bullion taxes.

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the board of directors of the state of Nevada for said expositions hereby request each county commissioner of the 16 counties of the state to make inquiries and advise this board of the public sentiment of his county upon whether or not it is advisable to abandon Nevada's representation at said exposition, and immediately discontinue all expense in connection herewith, and

Be it further resolved, that said county commissioners are requested to advise this board of the sentiment of their counties upon this matter on or before September 10, 1914, and

Be it further resolved that the county commissioners of the several counties of the state, are hereby advised that the plans formulated by this board contemplate the expenditure of about $90,000 of the $140,000, made available by the act of the legislature. Board of Directors of the Panama-

Pacific and Panama California Exposition for the State of Nevada.

"FOOLISH TRADING"

As producers and builders, the American people excel all previous civilization and we are a present-day marvel in business efficiency, but in dealing with foreign countries we are a sorry lot of traders. Ever since Wm. Penn traded the Indians a handful of trinkets for what is now the state of Pennsylvania, the American people have been selling their birthright to foreigners for a mess of pottage so to speak.

We export over $50,000,000 of cattle and their products per annum, which feeds the nations of Europe, and our American heiresses spend a similar sum in buying and maintaining counts, dukes and titled peerages. These foreign noblemen are as a rule, absolutely worthless—in fact become a perpetual liability—for it costs more money to operate and keep them in repair than it does to run our cotton mills. European royalty puts the black sheep of the families on the block and our rich American girls buy them and we virtually exchange railroads, wheat fields and millions of dollars worth of products of farm, mine and factory for titled paupers who could not be resold for any sum. It does not require foreign treaties, a fleet of war vessels or tariff revision to stop this enormous loss. It needs only common sense in the homes of the rich.

We export $18,000,000 of lumber and timber, and American tourists spend a similar amount in motoring over Europe and sight seeing in foreign lands, although the most enchanting scenes of the world are on the American continent.—Exchange.
